

Dear Sirs,

Media consolidation and deregulation has wreaked havoc on the radio industry in the US. The "public airwaves" are public no longer, being held by large Wall Street conglomerates who reduce every decision to the lowest common denominator: the bottom line.

Please don't make the same mistake twice. Don't allow the television sector to be demolished and gobbled up by money-hungry investment types the same way the radio sector was. I urge you to KEEP IN PLACE the current rules governing ownership of television stations and related media outlets.
